

FOOD FELLOWSHIP ETIQUETTE

The family table is a crucial part of the daily Institute schedule. High quality cuisine designed around the individual student's food preferences is served with fashionable dishes, cutlery and table settings where students and staff learn and participate in various types of dining etiquette. Two formal meals are included in Institute etiquette training. The most important meal of the Institute is the formal Shabbat meal, designed around the traditional Jewish celebration of the Sabbath.

"Table talk" classes occasionally follow the meal and clean-up times.
